Excerpt: . many latent powers, and verily we believe that when you narrate them there will be no exaggeration. By hearing his virtues the future generations of living beings will derive immense good, imbibing faith and veneration in the Dhaema. Lama, under these circumstances vouchsafe unto us a few anecdotes of his former births. Atisa replied: -- His virtues may be compared with a mine of precious gems. Being of a superior order they could hardly be comprehended by others. It behoves him not himself to describe them to others. I shall narrate some of them that you may store them in your mind. At this Bromton (Jinakara) said: -- Oh most venerable Lama! as you teach the Diiarma which is holy at its beginning, at its middle and at its end, may I ask what necessity there is for narrating how I wandered many...
