Not illustrated. 1874 Excerpt: .not give this paper to these gentlemen, as a proposition of your own, and ask them to furnish security by the next Monday morning, and the names of such security? A. I gave them Q. Will you answer my question? A. I did not. Paper read. Q. Did you ever, after writing that paper to Mr. Anfenger, request him to furnish you with the names of securities and information for the drawing of a lease on the next Monday morning? A. Not at all; I requested them to make a proposal to Mr. Woodworth. Q. Are those your figures? A. I see that they are; I gave them as data to make a proposition by. Q. That is all you gave? A. That is all I gave; I have given such to twenty different parties to make propositions from, and the most favorable one to be accepted. Q. Did you put in the terms as to taxes and insurance? A. Not to them, but to other parties; I did not allude to these parties. Q. What is that? A. I say we have given papers out to different persons and told them that the most favorable would be accepted. Q. Did giving you ten thousand dollars and taxes make any favorable impression as a proposal? A. Not then, sir. Q. You knew how favorable that impression would be from having placed it on this paper? A. I had given several papers out to persons making these...
