Resolved, That the faith of the Nation, and especially that of the Union party, is solemnly pledged to the freedom of the South, that their freedom shall be secured and maintained by national authority whenever that shall be requisite, and by such legislation as may be necessary and proper to accomplish that object. Resolved, That recognizing in President Johnson a statesman whose personal sacrifices and patriotic conduct during the late civil war endeared him to the loyal people of this country, and recognizing in the Union majority of Congress a body of able and faithful defenders of constitutional liberty, as well as true representatives of the wishes of their constituents, the hope is ardently entertained by this Assembly that, by conciliation, forbearance and mutual concessions the differences of opinion existing between the President and Congress may be harmonized, and by their joint labors and wisdom the great work of restoring the American Union happily accomplished. Resolved, That His Excellency the Govern.r is hereby respectfully requested to transmit copies of the above resolutions to the President, and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress....
