NOTE ON JELLON GRAME 0 Jellon Grame sat in SUveneood.--St. i. 1. 1. Silverwood, mentioned in this ballad, occurs in a medley Ms. song, which seems to have been copied from the first edition of the Aberdeen cantus, penet John G. Dalyell, Esq., advocate. One line only is cited, apparently the beginning of some song: -- Silverwood, gin ye wer mine. The name also occurs in the version of Child Maurice in the Percy folio sis. (ed. Hales and Furnivall, ii. 502), which has certain similarities with Jellon Grame, and very closely resembles it in the two opening stanzas: -- Childe Maurice hunted ithe siluer wood, He hunted it round about: And noebodye that he ffounci therin, Nor none there was without. He saves come hither, thou litle ffoot-page, Yt runneth lowlye by my knee, Ffor thou shalt goe...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You wont feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).
